

Questions for Aspiring Representatives

SUGGESTED QUESTIONS:

1. Do you accept that our inherent right to bodily sovereignty and the rights as articulated in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms is the highest law of the land and that all other laws, rules, and regulations must comply with the Charter?
2. Do you support the ethical and legal right to informed consent regarding medical treatments and choices, including the principle that consent may be withdrawn by the person concerned at any time, for any reason, without disadvantage or prejudice?
3. Do you support the free and open sharing of knowledge and access to alternative points of view?
4. Do you believe the state has the right to impose medical treatments upon healthy Canadians? If not, what have you done in the past six months to defend the right of Canadians to bodily sovereignty and medical choice?
5. Do you intend, if elected, to do all in your power to defend the right of Canadians to medical choice, bodily sovereignty, and informed consent, and the right of parents to make medical decisions for their children? If a currently sitting politician, what have you done in the last six months to defend these rights?

In Summary:

- Our inherent and Charter rights are being egregiously violated by governments.
- A system that puts loyalty to the Party first is a violation of the authority we have delegated to our elected representatives.
- Now is the time to defend our rights and freedoms
